5. A low wooden building at Scholtenplatz housed a guard detail of about 30 EM who were red-bordered black epaulets. Since trucks were unable to pass through the small doors of the four garages there, source thought that heavy mortars were stored there. It could not be determined whether the five earth shelters on Trenkmannstrasse contained fuel or ammunition. Unlike the shelters on Scholtenstrasse, they had no fire extinguishers or ventilation shafts. Noter vehicles observed at Scholtenplatz were numbered been set up at the intersection of Scholtenstrasse and Feldmannstrasse, it was difficult to determine whether the vehicles came from Scholten-platz or from the south gate of the See Kaserne.

6. The Friedrich Franz Kaserne was occupied on h January by about 1,800 troops training red-bordered black epaulets, some with artillery insignia. About 30 EM were engaged in aiming practice with four 122-mm guns and about 60 EM did gun drill with eight guns of 100 or 120 mm caliber in the barracks yard.

Were seen leaving the installation.

7. Five AA guns were newly observed to be emplaced about 300 meters west of the telegraph construction office near the Friedrich Franz Kaserne. The guns were covered with canvas and had barrels about 2 meters long. They were guarded by two sentries who were red-bordered black epaulets.

was standing between the AA gun emplacements and the barracks installation. It had its rod antenna extended and was connected with the installation by a double telephone line.
